

Minerva's Frequent-Beacher Program

It's really very simple:

- Every time you accumulate (or "bank") six nights, you get a seventh night free.
- There are no limitations on how long it takes you to reach the magic "6". You might, for example, stay 2 nights in 2010, three nights in 2012, and one night in 2013...or any other combination of nights and years that suits your LBI schedule.
- "Yes you can" transfer your free night to someone else, subject to Minerva's regular minimum-stay policies (though you may not combine your "banked" nights with those of someone else in order to reach "6" more quickly...)
- Minerva's will keep track, though you might want to remind us to look back if we forget, since unlike the airlines we won't be constantly calculating and sending you regular reminders. On the other hand, unlike the airlines, we won't let your "beacher" points expire!
