ALSO-BACK-AGAIN: Ghylian Bell, that dynamic NYC health coach who teaches yoga both to toddlers and to seniors. She is a founder of the Urban Yoga Foundation, the mission of which includes “... creating a calming environment that addresses behavioral problems and stress related disorders.... this non-profit agency seeks to equip young people with basic interaction and communication skills.” Learn more about Ghylian at: <http://www.urbandyogafoundation.com/founder.html>

CHANGES* : TWO astrological readers who will help us with our renewal weekends.

May 19-21 Treacy Cantwell will join us.

June 2-4 we'll share our weekend with Tracey Hucks.

Yep, a TrEacy and a TrAcEy!! (See their self-descriptions on the next page)

Sunday morning, May 21, Leslie Blatt, a “professional crafter” will return for a second year to teach us how to emulate her textile magic. Leslie brings many years of experience as a teacher in the Simplicity Creative Group, a conglomerate of craft suppliers which describes itself this way: “Simplicity Creative Group is dedicated to encouraging and supporting your creativity with high quality, fun to use products, projects and services. ...”

The mission of Simplicity Creative Group is “to be one of the world's leading creators of products that facilitate individual expression and promote personalized creativity. Utilizing our portfolio of brands, and leveraging knowledge and experience gained over the past century, we seek to develop innovative and reliable products of the highest quality.”

Leslie will be bringing tools with which you can create something beautiful to take home with you. She'll also consult with you about other fabric or needlework projects you may wish to bring with you.

PS. Leslie is an enthusiastic and knowledgeable bird-watcher, who takes spectacular photos, so you nature enthusiasts will find a sympatico conversationalist!

May 19-21 Treacy Cantwell, who has a home in Barnegat Light, describes herself thus:

“One of her first awakenings was on a train during a daily morning commute into work at the World Trade Center when in her head she heard, “person on tracks, person on tracks, person on tracks”. Moments later, the train came to a screeching halt, sending its passengers flying into the backs of the seats in front of them. With that, the conductor entered the car in which Treacy Cantwell was seated announcing loudly, “Ladies and gentlemen! We will be exiting this train and boarding another one shortly because we just hit a person on the tracks!”

The experiences continued in her life regardless of her corporate career location; be it Norfolk, VA, Washington, D.C. or Philadelphia. Realizing there was more to these than just being mere “coincidences”, Treacy decided to learn more about spirituality. Later on the advice of well-respected spiritualists, she decided to pursue development of her psychic and mediumship gifts. After years of attending classes, workshops and studying under renown James Van Praagh, she founded her practice, The Island Intuitive. Treacy is honored in delivering messages on behalf of Spirit and assisting others who search for answers and understanding from the realm beyond.

Services provided by Treacy include psychic and mediumship readings via photo-reading, psychometry, scrying, auto-writing, pendulum and spirit cards.

The Island Intuitive can be found on Facebook.”

June 2-14 Tracey Hucks, who is back for a second year, says of herself:

“Tracey purchased her first Tarot deck over twenty years ago. She conducted her first set of spiritual readings among a group of women on the island of Trinidad while conducting research on African-based religions there. Since that time she has studied and apprenticed with two women Master readers in Pennsylvania and in Georgia. For the past decade, she has been a member of a Tarot Circle which convenes monthly around issues related to the sacred science of spiritual readings. She has also taught courses on comparative divination and the ancient art of spiritual readings around the world.”
